The musical score is written for piano and voice. It begins with a piano introduction in 2/4 time, marked 'Andate con espressione' and 'p'. The introduction features a melody in the right hand and a bass line in the left hand. The first system of the song includes a vocal line with the lyrics 'down ye gentle skies, Bend softly down to me, That I may see those spi - rit' and a piano accompaniment. The second system continues the vocal line with 'eyes, If spirit eyes they be, Bend gently down, For I have' and the piano accompaniment. The score is written in G major and 2/4 time.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1850, by N. Phillips, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of Missouri.

dream'd, That there were forms a-bove, In every pearly star that beam'd, made up of light and love.

Bend softly down ye gentle stars, And lift the azure veil, That I may see your pearly brows, That ne'er with sorrow pale,

There must be hearts in that blue realm, That throw with fearful bliss, They cannot be so dull and cold, So pulseless as in this.

Oh! I have set my weary heart
 On love, this earth hath not,
 And mine, thro' life must ever be
 A sad and lonely lot;
 Bend softly down ye gentle skies,
 Bend softly down to me,
 That I may see those spirit eyes,
 If spirit eyes they be.
